

Software architecture and validation flow

The current reference backend is MMFF94s; a production ESS2.0 submission should add at least one tested electronic-structure Hessian/dipole interface.